INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL VILLAGE

June 10th - July 11th at Birchwood, Johannesburg, South Africa

DON'T MISS OUT ON THE FINAL FESTIVITIES AT THE INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL VILLAGE

09 July 2010, Johannesburg: So you might be disappointed because all the tickets are sold out for the last two games remaining in the 2010 FIFA World Cup™, but that doesn't mean you have to be excluded from the ambiance of the exceptional stadium experience elsewhere.

The International Football Village is the place to be to feel the ultimate 'gees' while watching Netherlands and Spain battle it out on the field showcasing fancy footwork and immaculate ball skills for the victory of being titled the 2010 FIFA World Cup™ champions.

Over and above amazing football, Garth Taylor and She Band will be performing live for the Village crowd of supporters to build up the spirit before the match goes underway, while Black Coffee and She Band along with DJ's will entertain and take you long into the night to party after the final whistle has been blown. "The International Football Village is a place where various cultures meet, international dialogue is exchanged, friendships are made and where people celebrate and have fun together as One Family," says Kevin Clarence, CEO of the Birchwood Hotel and O.R. Tambo Conference Centre, which is hosting the International Football Village.

And let's not forget about the clash between Germany and Uruguay on Saturday, 10 July 2010 as they compete for third place. While both teams were surprisingly knocked out in the semi-finals, both of the teams' supporters have been nothing but loyal throughout the tournament. The International Football Village is expected to be a sea of blue and white as spectators back their sides.

To get the blood pumping and the adrenaline flowing while waiting in anticipation, Jamali, Crash Car Burn and She Band will be performing live before the game begins.

An International Football Village closing ceremony will be taking place on Saturday, 10 July 2010 whereby 'The Legacy of the World Cup for Africa' will be discussed amongst panellists and guests. Following the panel discussion, partners of Ke Nako Africa, SRSA and the GTZ will celebrate the final tournament of our very own Gauteng Street Soccer Final taking place at the five a side pitch in the International Park 14:15.

The International Football Village will be hosting their monthly Jazz Evening tonight along with the distinctive sounds of Oliver Mtukudhzi. For this month only, tickets have been reduced to R100 only which allows you full access to the International Football Village. What are you waiting for? Get your jazz hands going and come celebrate with us this weekend as we share in the closing of the 2010 FIFA World Cup™ together as One Family.

International Football Village – the only place to be this World Cup™.

Editors Notes: Fan-Ticket for the day cost R100 with access to all public areas. Corporate tickets are available at R500 with access to a central corporate room (meal and private viewing) and public areas as well. Tickets are available from Computicket or at the Birchwood Hotel.
